

GAVIN LLEWELLYN

Gavin is a Partner in the Corporate & Commercial team of Stone King LLP in London. He is an intellectual property specialist dealing with a broad range of IP rights for a wide variety of clients. Gavin has a particular focus on brand and design protection and exploitation and on contentious issues and business risks related to IP, including the enforcement of IP rights through Court and IP Registry proceedings. As a result of this focus, Gavin works closely with brand owners and businesses from across the design industry.

Gavin is the President of the Intellectual Property Commission of the UIA and a member of the editorial committee of the UIA's Juriste magazine.
