

9TH BUSINESS LAW FORUM: New Trends in Liability of Senior Managers – Overview of the Most Important Developments in Key Jurisdictions Around the World

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 & FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 2018

#UIABusinessLaw

Seminar organised by the UIA with the support of the Association of Danish Law Firms and Gorrissen Federspiel Law Firm

Bringing together the world's lawyers

For over 90 years, the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA - International Association of Lawyers) has been defending the legal profession and facilitating international contacts, cooperation and the exchange of knowledge among lawyers, while respecting their cultural and professional diversity.

Today, the UIA brings together several thousand members – lawyers or law professionals – and hundreds of bars, federations and associations.

Join the UIA and become a member of the world's strongest network of lawyers

- You will participate in the work of the UIA Commissions in Business Law, Human Rights and General Practice and share your experience with that of professionals from over 110 countries.
- You will also be able to join forces with the UIA, which, each year, provides its support to lawyers who cannot freely practise their profession. Everywhere in the world where rights of defence are threatened or the proper administration of justice is hindered, the UIA will make your voice heard.

Introduction

It is clear that in the wake of the 2008 financial crisis, there has been a marked shift in the policies of many governments to ensure that individuals “responsible” for wrongdoing, whether it is bank failures, tax evasion, anti-trust breaches, corruption or money laundering, should be, and are, prosecuted. Following on from last year’s successful seminar on managers liability held in Zurich, the Competition Law, Labour Law and Criminal Law Commissions of the UIA have come together to organise a joint seminar on the key developments in this area, this time focusing more on the Nordic experience, but simultaneously exploring key developments from around the world.

In-house and external counsel will be joining us to consider the legal and practical challenges faced as a result of enforcement agencies’ increased focus on holding senior officers to account, as well as considering the competing interests of corporates and their employees, the gradual erosion of client-attorney privilege, and whether compliance is the answer.

SESSION 1 – RISKS IN DIFFERENT LEGAL AREAS

10:15 – 11:15 Panel 1 – Competition Law – Is Further Criminalisation the Next Step?

Businesses operate nowadays in a global economy where competition laws play an increasingly important role. Companies and their managements find themselves under constant close scrutiny by both national and supranational competition authorities. Breaches of competition law, even unintentional ones, have severe consequences for the financial condition, reputation and continued viability of business enterprises. For individuals they can mean loss of employment, ruined careers, fines and imprisonment. This panel will focus on new trends in competition law enforcement, with a focus on the increased willingness of the authorities to go not only after the companies, but also after individuals involved in the anticompetitive behaviour.

Speakers:

- Caroline FRYDENBERG, Head of Competition Law/Senior Manager, Nets Denmark A/S, Ballerup, Denmark

This panel will explore how companies balance ever increasing obligations for data protection with the need to operate in a high tech environment. It will also focus on first practical experiences with application of GDPR following its entry into force.

The GDPR aims to improve data security and encourage business leaders to be more vigilant when dealing with personal data. Amongst other things, GDPR creates a new senior compliance role in organisations (the Data Protection Officer), gives regulatory authorities, particularly the national data protection regulators, additional powers to impose severe penalties on businesses, and imposes mandatory data security breach reporting requirements on organisations.

This panel will explore the legal requirements to be observed when practicing internal investigations: in accordance to the rights of the employees, no matter if they are witnesses, suspects or whistle-blowers. In a manner to obtain useful evidences which can lawfully justify, if needed, a disciplinary sanction for the misconduct of the employee.

Moderator: • Dominik LEITER, Flitsch Leuthner Leiter Rechtsanwälte GmbH, Vienna, Austria

Speakers:

- Mary-Daphné FISHELSON, August Debouzy, UIA Human Rights Deputy Director, Paris, France

14:30 – 15:30 Panel 4 – Banking/Anti-Corruption

The banking and financial sector and its senior management are increasingly coming under fire in relation to compliance with anti-money laundering rules, sanctions or more generally with its regulatory duties. Whether in the wake of calls for an anti-money laundering crackdown following allegations of wrongdoing by a number of European banks or whether due to increasing levels of regulation and “red tape”, the banking and financial sectors and its senior management face significant difficulties and hurdles. This panel will seek to highlight the most recent trends in this complex field.

The panel will consider the differing approaches in each jurisdiction.

SESSION 3 – MITIGATING RISKS/COMPLIANCE

09:00 – 10:00 Panel 1 – Compliance – A Universal Answer to All Types of Risks?

Businesses understand the importance of implementing competition compliance programs, but since there is no “one size fits all” approach to building a compliance culture, in this workshop leading competition lawyers from firms around the world will discuss what is required for compliance efforts to be truly successful and effective.

Moderator: • Martin André DITTMER, Managing Partner/Head of Competition, Gorrissen Federspiel, Copenhagen, Denmark

Speakers:

- Guido DE CLERCQ, Formerly Deputy Secretary General of Engie, Brussels, Belgium
- Michel ALEXANDER, Smith & Williamson LLP, London, United Kingdom
- Caroline FRYDENBERG, Head of Competition Law/Senior Manager, Nets Denmark A/S, Ballerup, Denmark
- Niko HUKKINEN, Partner, Roschier, Helsinki, Finland

10:00 – 11:00 Panel 2 – Attorney Client Privilege – Key Considerations for In-House Counsel

This panel will consider whether attorney client privilege can be relied upon when wrongdoing is identified.

Businesses that either on their own initiative or at the request of regulators evaluate the effectiveness of their compliance structures or investigate potential non-compliance with applicable laws and regulations frequently defer to external law firms to assist them with their investigative efforts and for advice on the potential risk of exposure to civil, regulatory and criminal liability. Internal investigation, and specifically the material produced in the course of such investigations, are increasingly complex as regards the status of attorney client privilege. The panel will consider in what circumstances corporations are being required to waive privilege over such material, and, for certain jurisdictions, in what circumstances this material would no longer be considered to be covered by privilege. The panel will also address the comparative issues and challenges arising from cross border investigations and the requirement for lawyers to anticipate and apply the law of other countries.

Moderator: • Maria CRONIN, President of the UIA Criminal Law Commission, Peters & Peters Solicitors LLP, London, United Kingdom

Speakers:

- André FONSECA, Felsberg Advogados, Sao Paulo, Brazil
- Sam MacMahon BALDWIN, European Community Counsel, Szecskay Attorneys at Law, Budapest, Hungary
- Jackie MORTENSEN, Senior Legal Counsel, Competition Law & Policy, Maersk, Copenhagen, Denmark
- Jerome ROTH, Munger, Tolles & Olson, San Francisco, CA, USA

11:00 – 11:30 COFFEE BREAK

11:30 – 12:30 Panel 3 – Self-Reporting and Leniency

This panel will consider whether voluntary self-reporting is the new key to mitigating corporate liability? In certain jurisdictions, corporates can negotiate a settlement. The US Yates Memorandum emphasised the US’ renewed focus on individual corporate wrongdoing, and the need for companies to hand over evidence of individual culpability. What steps should businesses take and what are consequences for senior management and employees? The US has traditionally been seen as leading the way with regard to self-reporting wrong doing. Last year, the US Department of Justice (“DoJ”) announced a one-year pilot programme under which US corporations could mitigate their own liability for violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”) by voluntarily self-disclosing FCA violations within their organisations, in addition to fully cooperating with DoJ investigations. Will this approach be adopted elsewhere?
