Description of the Banking/Financial panel “HOW TECHNOLOGICAL INNOVATION IS TRANSFORMING FINANCE? Advances in digitalisation and financial technology continue to affect the landscape of the financial system, including the provision of banking and financial services. Digital finance is evolving rapidly, and innovations may have an impact on diverse areas of the financial system, from payment services to the financial markets. Artificial intelligence, social networks, machine learning, mobile applications, distributed ledger technology, cloud computing and big data analytics have given rise to new services and business models by established financial institutions and new market entrants. While digitalisation brings significant benefits to the financial system in various domains, including lower transaction costs and a higher level of financial inclusion, it can also create new vulnerabilities and amplify existing risks and challenges to banks, their customers and financial stability, which require monitoring and regulation. Speakers will describe the impact of new technologies on the banking and financial services industry and as lawyers can support this industry in the Digital Era”.
