Welcome to the 2025 UIA Congress in Guadalajara, the capital city of the State of Jalisco, Mexico.

Thank you to the individual members of the Mexican Organising Committee and to the leaders of the three Mexican Bar Associations, Ilustre y Nacional Colegio de Abogados de México, Barra Mexicana (Colegio de Abogados) and Asociación Nacional de Abogados de Empresa, for their generous and enthusiastic support.

The Congress venue that we have selected, the Expo Guadalajara Convention Centre, in line with the UIA Sustainability Guidelines, is certified for sustainability purposes as a carbon neutral/environmentally friendly convention centre, with a waste management policy in place, using eco-friendly products and food, with a water usage and lighting and energy policy focused on reducing consumption. The convention centre is located within walking distance from hotels and easily is accessible by public transport.

This will make Guadalajara 2025 the first sustainable compliant Congress in the history of the UIA!

In our era of complexity and change, both Main Themes deal with the challenges and developments in relation to two of the most topical and critical issues of interest to international legal business consultants and litigators. The first main theme on “FDI dispute resolution” will explore the various dispute resolution options available, including mediation, as provided by international agreements and applicable BITs, and faced with the new kinds of issues giving raise to disputes (such as energy transition, sanctions, and environmental and technological issues). The second main theme on Agrifood, Sustainability and International Trade will deal with the multiple legal aspects involved in transforming agri-food systems to make them more sustainable, resilient, inclusive, equitable and healthy, in a changing climate and environment.

In addition you will be able to choose amongst a variety of some 45 different working sessions covering all the areas of the law, with speakers and participants from over 80 countries.

I look forward to welcoming you to Guadalajara for an unforgettable experience!

Carlo Mastellone
UIA President

Dear colleagues and friends of the UIA,

It is an honor to address you as President of the 69th Congress of the UIA. We warmly invite you to join us in Guadalajara, Mexico, from 29 October to 2 November 2025. The UIA Congress is a unique opportunity for lawyers from around the world to meet, exchange ideas and strengthen ties. In a globalized world, spending time with colleagues from different cultures, committed to law and justice, is a valuable experience.

Mexico and Guadalajara offer an unrivaled setting. Guadalajara, the second largest city in Mexico, is a living testimony to the blend of modernity and tradition that characterizes our nation. Guadalajara is the heart of Mexico's emblematic traditions. The «mariachi», a musical symbol of our country and declared Intangible Cultural Heritage by UNESCO, originated here. It is also the birthplace of tequila and charrería (Mexican livestock herding). Much of what is associated with Mexico — mariachi, tequila, traditional hats and Jarabe Tapatio dance — originated in Jalisco.

Guadalajara's cuisine is another of its great attractions. From the tortas ahogadas («drowned» sandwiches) and tacos, to the haute fusion cuisine, each meal is a delight for the senses. Guadalajara is a key technological development center in Latin America. It is home to important technology companies such as IBM, Oracle, Cisco, Toshiba, Intel, HP, and Dell. Jalisco represents 40% of the IT industry in Mexico. The city has modern infrastructures for a productive and pleasant stay.

This congress will allow participants to attend high-level conferences and workshops on the most relevant international law topics. It will be an opportunity to learn from experts and share knowledge. Guadalajara offers unforgettable experiences. See you in Mexico, Guadalajara awaits you!

Arturo Pueblita Fernández
President of the 69th UIA Congress

UIA

Bringing Together the World's Lawyers

The UIA is a global and multi-cultural organization for the legal profession. Created in 1927, the UIA brings together members from 110 countries. The UIA facilitates professional development and international exchange of information and ideas, promotes the rule of law, defends the independence and freedom of lawyers worldwide, and emphasises friendship, collegiality and networking among members.

Today, the UIA reaches around two million lawyers through its individual and collective members (bar associations, lawyers' federations and organisations) worldwide.

Join the UIA and become a member of the world's strongest network of lawyers

Several types of membership are available, depending on your profile and the country in which you practice law.

You can participate in the work of the 44 UIA commissions and share your experience with professionals from all over the world, during seminars, training courses and the UIA annual Congress.

You will also be able to join forces with the UIA Institute for the Rule of Law (UIA-IROL), which, each year, provides its support to lawyers who cannot freely practice their profession. Everywhere in the world where rights of defence are threatened or the proper administration of justice is hindered, the UIA will make your voice heard.

Becoming a member of the UIA will also enable you to benefit from a preferential rate for your registration to the Congress. To find out more, go to the UIA website at: www.uianet.org

WELCOME TO GUADALAJARA!

The UIA Congress goes to Mexico!

Capital of the state of Jalisco in western Mexico, Guadalajara is one of the country's most important cities. Modern because it is rooted in the development of new technologies, it is also the birthplace of the mariachis, moulded in their sequined costumes and wearing their large round hats, the famous Mexican sombrero. The world-wide known tequila is produced in the village of the same name, some 60km away.

The heart of Guadalajara boasts a wealth of historic monuments, pretty green squares and fine colonial buildings. Like Guanajuato, Guadalajara is also a major university town, with exchanges with cities in several countries.

ENTRY FORMALITIES

All conference attendees must travel with a valid passport, proof of conference registration, hotel reservation, departure ticket from Mexico, and credit card.

In addition, those nationals from countries that require a visa to enter Mexico must apply for a visitor visa at a Mexican consulate with at least 8 weeks in advance, unless they have a valid visa at the time of arrival in Mexico issued by the United States of America, Canada, United Kingdom, Japan or any Schengen area country.

You may consult the countries that need visa to enter to Mexico in the following link:

<https://embamex.sre.gob.mx/finlandia/index.php/traveling/visas>

TRANSPORT

Direct flights serve Guadalajara on several airlines. You can benefit from attractive rates if you book your flight online as early as possible.

Aeroméxico,

UIA Networking

ROOM JOYA 2

One of the reasons for attending a global Congress is to network – to meet people who might be useful for one's own law practice and to make oneself known to others and, why not, create organic links.

Speed Dating for Law Firms, first introduced at the Macau Congress in 2013, at the initiative of Fred Kan, is a unique programme offering such an opportunity.

All participants interested in connecting with law firms outside their own jurisdiction each get 3 minutes on stage to introduce themselves and their firm. Like-minded lawyers are able to meet at the session to explore opportunities for co-operation..

Banking and Financial Services Law  Room Mueble 2	Revolution in the payments landscape in the Digital Age Payment services play a fundamental role in our daily lives and for the economy. The payment services market has changed significantly in recent years. Electronic payments have been constantly growing. The trend towards digitalisation was accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic, leading to a surge in online transactions and contactless payments in shops. The digital transformation is triggering a revolution in the financial sector, especially in payments, which will bring innovation as well as benefits in terms of costs, convenience, accessibility, and inclusion for individuals and firms, but also risks (e.g. fraud). New providers, enabled by digital technologies, have entered the market. Fintech companies have sparked the latest wave of innovation, speeding up the evolution of the payment system that also plays to the strength of big tech. To advance digital payments, promote innovation and enhance safety and efficiency in the financial sector, central banks have multiple tools at their disposal. One prominent option is to issue a Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC). Another is to build Fast Payment Systems (FPS). Speakers will illustrate the most significant innovations in payments and their key impacts and implications on users, banks and other payment service providers, regulators, and the overall structure of the payments market, as well as the major public-private partnerships in payment systems. Agrifood Law / Animal Law / Environment and Sustainable Development Law  Room Construcción	Sustainable Use of the Oceans The importance of the oceans to human health and well-being cannot be overstated. Covering 70% of the planet, the oceans provide livelihoods and resources to more than 3 billion people. Blue foods – those that are harvested from oceans, rivers, and lakes – have the potential to help feed a population expected to reach 10 billion in 2050. Recognizing its significance, UN Sustainable Development Goal 14 is to “Conserve and sustainably use the oceans, seas and marine resources for sustainable development.” However, due to human activities, the oceans and the creatures who live in them are in peril. Unsustainable exploitation, climate change, and environmental degradation are immediate threats that require international collaboration and cooperation. This presentation will look at key legal and policy issues relevant to the sustainable use of the oceans. The panel of experts will consider the current “state of the blue food industry” – from local economic impacts to international trade agreements. Presentations will include proposed laws and policies needed to create equitable and sustainable conditions for all global stakeholders; how science and technology can mitigate the environmental impacts of climate change, illegal fishing, overfishing, and pollution; and how to prevent the further loss of species that is impacting the biodiversity of the oceans.	Yolanda EISENSTEIN Santa Fe, NM, USA Luis Fernando MACÍAS GÓMEZ Bogota, Colombia Coordinatrice: Yolanda EISENSTEIN Santa Fe, NM, USA	Bryce BARTHULY (Cuny Graduate Center) New York, NY, USA Meganne NATALI Cagnes-sur-mer, France Carlos RAMIREZ (Reese LLP) New York, NY, USA Michael REESE (Reese LLP) New York, NY, USA Jim Karani RIUNGU (Lawyers For Animal Protection In Africa) Nairobi, Kenya

LGBTQIA+ Committee Session  Room Joya 2	The legal recognition of homosexuality in different jurisdictions over the last few years: a twin-track approach. Should the LGBT community be concerned? The legal recognition of homosexuality has become increasingly polarized worldwide, characterized by a 'twin-track' approach. Progressive countries, particularly in Western Europe and parts of the Americas, have made significant advancements in LGBTQ+ rights, legalizing same-sex marriage and enacting anti-discrimination policies that promote inclusivity. Conversely, other nations impose severe penalties on homosexuality and maintain discriminatory legislation, often driven by cultural, religious, or political ideologies, leading to heightened anti-LGBT sentiment and violence against those in the community. This contrasting progress raises important questions about the future of LGBTQ+ rights globally. While advancements in certain regions offer hope for broader acceptance, regression in others creates anxiety among LGBTQ+ individuals in less progressive environments. Addressing these concerns necessitates international dialogue, support for human rights, and increased awareness of the struggles faced by the LGBTQ+ community. Continued vigilance and advocacy are crucial to protect existing rights and strive for equality in every part of the world.	Dirk NUYTS (Dirk Nuyts Legal) Zoug, Switzerland	Speakers to be confirmed

Agrifood Law / International Sale of Goods  Room Joya 1	Ag trade: Navigating uncertainty policy shifts and relevant Import and Export Regulations Agricultural trade is evolving due to changing policies, regulations, and global market conditions. The Ukraine War and Middle East Crisis have already impacted the sector, and the U.S. is shifting its trade policy, influenced by Trump's "America First" agenda and its aggressive tariff stance. This may lead to a reassessment of trade agreements, affecting not only U.S.-Mexico-Canada agricultural trade but also European and Latin American exports to the U.S.	Mariaelena GIORCELLI (Bortolotti, Mathis & Associati) Turin, Italy	Speakers to be confirmed
	This environment of uncertainty will make it difficult for farmers and exporters worldwide to plan, as trade policies could change rapidly due to political shifts. The session will explore the challenges and opportunities of navigating uncertainties, including the impact of evolving trade agreements, tariffs, and import-export regulations on international agricultural markets. It will also address the complexities of compliance with diverse and often conflicting regulatory frameworks governing the movement of agricultural goods across borders. In the context of international agricultural sales, the session will address the topic of the parties responsibilities for customs duties and charges and how to allocate these risks through contractual clauses and/or the use of Incoterms. Through a comprehensive analysis of current trade trends and policy developments, the presentation aims to provide insights into strategies that stakeholders in the agricultural trade industry can adopt to mitigate risks and capitalize on emerging opportunities in an increasingly volatile global market.

Immigration and Nationality Law / Labour Law  Room Construcción	The Rise of International Trading Blocs: Balancing Labour and Immigration Advice in an Increasingly Glocalised World The 21st Century dawned with the world racing toward what seemed to be everlasting globalisation fuelled by accelerating technology. However, with the onset of the Great Recession, a slow global economic recovery, and the shockwaves of the COVID-19 pandemic, many countries are embracing, at least de facto, globalization: the simultaneous growth of worldwide and local initiatives. Global markets are expanding through technology, while protectionism and trade barriers are on the rise. With the rise of outsourcing and, its heir, remote work, technology is creating a global labour market for businesses that seek the best and brightest talent. Yet, services that cross international borders can incur sizeable regulatory and transactional costs, costs that are ignored by employers at their increasing peril. At the same time, there still are services that must be provided in person, buttressing the demand for global immigration. In this glocalised world, labour and immigration counsel must coordinate advice to provide comprehensive employment advice to businesses, while anticipating the twin trends of advancing technology and protectionism on the march. This precarious advisory paradigm shall be the focus of this joint working session.	Clayton E. UIA-ABA joint session with the support of the Business and Human Rights commission  Room Joya 1	The United Nations At 80 : The State Of Play Of Business And Human Rights The world is at a flexion point regarding human rights. The United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGP) sought to apportion and impose responsibility on both private and public sectors. While certain of these and other soft law principles have made their way into hard law in some jurisdictions, other jurisdictions have seen resistance if not backlash. Meanwhile, various bar associations, such as the American Bar Association, have adopted policy that urges lawyers to advise clients on the UNGP, and others have issued guidance and toolkits. The United Nations holds an annual conference in Geneva on business and human rights, and both private, public and non-profit entities participate in the United Nations Global Compact. This program, jointly sponsored by Business and Human Rights Commission and the UIA-ABA Joint Program, explores the current state of play among lawyers in implementing and promoting UN guidance in the day to day practice of law. Animal Law / Banking and Financial Services Law / Human Rights  Salon Moda	Tackling Climate Change: Lawyers Must Act Now for a Sustainable Future Humans are changing the planet. We are spewing pollutants into the atmosphere. We have destroyed roughly 1/5 th of the arable land on Earth. We are running out of freshwater while the 20 th century saw a fourfold increase in population. We are in the midst of the sixth mass extinction. Climate change is increasingly affecting ecosystems, with disruptive effects on the social well-being, economic development, and financial stability. The loss of biodiversity is producing severe consequences. The resulting effects on the climate have caused the loss of critical species, zoonotic diseases, and driven the mass mortality of plants and animals. Since 2008, over 376 million people - climate refugees - have been displaced because of environmental disasters. International climate finance is essential for developing countries to achieve their climate goals. Criminal Law / Human Rights  Room Moda	Contextualised justice: due process and the nature of the offence The idea that due process is not a monolithic concept, but rather that its application may vary in intensity according to the nature of the offence, is a complex and relevant issue. On the one hand, there is the fundamental principle that all persons deserve a fair trial and due process, regardless of the offence with which they are charged. However, it is also true that the seriousness of an offence and its potential consequences may justify a more rigorous application of due process. For example, in a capital case, the need to ensure that a miscarriage of justice does not occur is much greater than in a misdemeanor case. This may warrant a greater investment of resources and time to ensure a fair and thorough process. However, it is crucial to strike a balance. An excessively flexible application of due process could lead to discrimination and infringement of fundamental rights. Therefore, any adjustment in the intensity of due process must be based on objective and justified criteria, always respecting the fundamental principles of justice and human rights.	Véronique MOISSINAC MASSENAT Paris, France Gustavo SALAS RODRÍGUEZ (Salas Y Salas, S.C.) Cancún, Mexico	Speakers to be confirmed
