Introduction

In response to the climate challenge and its imperative to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, the transition process (environmental, energy, etc.) at work is disrupting societies and economies. This is due to the power and irreversibility of the transformations it implies, particularly in hydrocarbon-exporting countries forced to rethink their economic and social model.

The challenges to be met are immense to carry out the transition, within a tight timetable given the worsening of climate change and its dramatic consequences. In this perspective, it is imperative to anticipate and manage the broad-spectrum conflict of the transition as best we can, in the interest of States, companies and citizens.

Dialogue between stakeholders is essential and is at the heart of sustainability policies, whether international, regional or local. The place of mediation, in this context, is central.

The conference, jointly organised by the Mediation and Conflict Prevention Commission and the Kuwaiti National Committee of the UIA, aims to explain – by adopting a multidisciplinary and transnational approach – the complexity of the transition and how mediation can support it.

SESSION IV: Transition-Induced Conflicts and Ways to Prevent and Manage Them

- Impact of the energy transition for the global economy and for the economy of the Middle East:
- Changes in trade flows: reduced demand for fossil fuels, increased demand for renewable energy technologies...
- Changes in financial flows: evolution of Foreign Direct Investments (FDI) according to investment opportunities and FDI reception capacities at the local level (infrastructure, legislation – including in terms of ADR/mediation, etc.), abandonment of certain sectors (polluting and high-carbon industries, etc.) ...
- Geopolitical dynamics: redefinition of alliances (energy, military, technological, etc.), access to resources, etc.
- Maps of the main conflicts related to the climate crisis and the transition:
 - A broad-spectrum conflictuality, both at the macro and micro levels: conflicts of economic interests (competition between industries), territorial conflicts, environmental conflicts related to the deployment of transition infrastructure, geopolitical conflicts related to the capture of the resources necessary for the transition, financial conflicts (earmarking of public subsidies, investment decisions at the intra-company level, etc.), social conflicts, internal and international migration
 - Conflict within the commercial economic ecosystem of companies: resistance to change (governance, management, etc.), investment conflicts, conflicts with business partners (upstream and downstream) and customers, strategic conflicts (diversification, profit vs. sustainability)
 - The challenge of decarbonizing the value chain

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Mediation: an essential instrument to make the transition process more fluid• The promotion of dialogue at the heart of policies in favor of sustainable development: Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) criteria, duty of vigilance, the concept of stakeholders, the necessary multidisciplinary and holistic approach, identification and reconciliation of common and opposing interests in complex environments...• The argument of efficiency and speed in a constrained climate calendar• The argument of the response to the massiveness and complexity of the measures (political, economic, social, environmental) imposed by the transition and their deployment Moderator: David LUTRAN, Lawyer, Mediator, Lutran Avocats & Médiation, Paris, France Speakers: Prof. Walid BEN HAMIDA, Professor of Law, University of Lille, Lille, France Michael PATCHETT, 36 Group, London, United Kingdom Stéphane POUFFARY, Executive Director of ENERGIES 2050, France Fabrice BONNIFET, President of the College of Sustainable Development Directors (C3D) and Sustainability Director at Bouygues, Paris, France

CANCELLATION CONDITIONS OF THE UIA

All cancellations will be subject to a 20% processing fee and must be sent in writing to the UIA (Union Internationale des Avocats) no later than March 14, 2025. No refund will be made for cancellations received after this date.

Participants who have paid the total registration fee and who are unable to attend the seminar personally may send a colleague as a substitute after informing the UIA. A €50 processing fee will be charged.

VISAS

Anyone who requires a visa invitation letter in order to attend the seminar should register and pay their registration fees no later than March 14, 2025 to ensure there is enough time to obtain a visa.

All cancellations will be refunded in full, minus €50 + VAT to cover administrative costs, provided that the UIA has received the registration documents and total registration fees no later than March 14, 2025.

If you register after this date, only 50% of the amount paid minus €50 + VAT to cover administrative costs will be refunded for cancellations due to visa refusals. All cancellations due to a visa refusal must be sent in writing and reach the UIA before the seminar. Cancellations must be accompanied by a proof of visa refusal. If your visa is issued after the seminar date or if you do not have proof of visa refusal, you will not be entitled to a refund.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

All registrations received by the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA) along with the full payment of fees corresponding to the events selected will be confirmed in writing.

The UIA reserves the right to cancel or postpone the seminar to a later date, change the seminar venue and/or programme, make any corrections or modifications in the information published in the seminar programme and cancel any invitation to participate in the seminar, at any time and at their entire discretion, without having to provide any reasons.

Neither the UIA, nor any of its managers, employees, agents, members or representatives shall be held responsible for any loss or damage of any nature suffered (directly or indirectly) by a delegate, accompanying person or a third party following any cancellations, changes, postponements or modifications, except in case of death or personal injury due to gross negligence by the UIA.

The UIA strongly advises participants to subscribe to modifiable and/or refundable services, as well as to take out cancellation insurance.

The contractual relations between the UIA and each participant (delegate or accompanying person) in relation to the seminar are subject to French law and jurisdiction, to the exclusion of any other law. Paris is the city of jurisdiction.
