Part I

Initiatives and Projects of Law Societies and Bar Associations for the Protection of Lawyers at Risk

Many Bars Associations and Law Societies around the world are undertaking international initiatives and projects for the protection of lawyers at risk, under threat or being persecuted by governments or other governmental or judicial authorities for discharging their legal duties and responsibilities or pursuing their profession.

This session will consist of several panels to present and illustrate a number of such initiatives and projects, and discuss interactively with the participants how synergies can be found and how the UIA, which has always been very active in defending lawyers at risk through the UIA-IROL (the Institute for the Rule of Law), might support these initiatives and projects and encourage developing alliances and coordinating actions and responses on a global basis.

Part II

The European Convention on the Profession of Lawyer

On 12 March 2025, the Committee of Ministers adopted the Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of the Profession of Lawyer. This marks the successful conclusion of over two years of hard work of both the European Committee on Legal Co-operation (CDCJ) and the Committee of Experts on the Protection of Lawyers (CJ-AV). The next step, for the Convention to take effect, is the official opening for signature by the Council of Europe member states scheduled to take place on 13 May 2025 during the ministerial conference in Luxembourg. The Council of Europe will encourage member states to support the Convention in spite of the short time leading up to the signing ceremony. It is hoped that as many states as possible will be able to sign it on this occasion.

The International Bar Leaders Session is the first opportunity at the international level to present the Convention and encourage member states to sign and thereafter to ratify the Convention, which is opened for signature also to States that are not members of the Council of Europe.
